December 26, 1928.

Dear Doctor Robinson:

A partially blind eye (left) warrants the use of a typewriter even to such a good friend as yourself. Your charming letter added so much to our delightful Christmas time.

Continuing an old but wholesome custom, our entire family (fourteen) sat at the feast. Afterwards we enjoyed the pardonable frivolity connected with the exchange of gifts. All of our family are quite well.

We are glad that you have been restored to comparitively sound health and that probably, at least for once, Mrs. Robinson is the "better half" of the pair. We rejoice with you in Stewart's marked success so early in life. "Blood will tell."

The circle tenders its deepest friendship bordering on affection to the Robinson trinity.

Sincerely yours,

William M. Hardt

My dear Dr. Robinson:

You may understand that I have not felt at liberty to "electioneer" for any candidate as my successor here: but in a quiet way I made intimations of my judgment in favor of calling Mr. Lyons — based largely on your statements as to his quality.

But, inter nos, I think I may say to you that our church here has a pretty high standard as to pulpit ability — and, as many another church, it "has a champagne appetite but a lager beer income!" At any rate, I am afraid that Mr. Lyon has been just quietly laid aside (without any formal vote) — for the reason which I intimate above!

Regretfully I write this, but think it fair to do so.

Cordially yours
Robert C. Hallock.

Dear Mr. Robinson:

We regret to say that, after careful consideration, we are unable to reach a favorable decision in regard to the publication in bookform of your work entitled the manuscript of which you kindly submitted to us. You will understand, of course, that this is a personal judgment reflecting merely our own editorial needs and our belief in our ability to publish successfully for you. At the hands of another publisher the decision might be different.

"The Uplifters,"

The manuscript is accordingly returned to you enclosed herewith by registered mail, and we thank you for the opportunity of considering your work.

Very truly yours,

Dear Dr. Robinson,

We are indeed very much indebted to you for your splendid address on Friday evening. I was sorry not to have seen you before you left to thank you personally.

Will you send me a bill of your expenses and we shall be very happy to send you a check.

Again thanking you, I am,

Very sincerely,

Mabel Purcell Haynes.

Dear Dr. Robinson:-

I arrived in Hobart Oct. 31st after a two weeks absence and was delighted to find your letter of the 22nd of October with the enclosures. These letters ought to be a very great help to us, and I thank you for them. I am not sure yet just when I shall be in Philadelphia but probably some time in November, and should anything result I will let you know of it.

We have already had some success in getting part of the money we need, and I find that there are many people who are interested in, and want to support, a work such as that in Korea.

Again thanking you for your helpfulness,

Sincerely yours,

J. G. Holdcroft.

Dear Dr. Robinson,

Mother wants me to thank you so much for the lovely roses, you + Mrs Robinson sent and also for your very nice letter, which Mrs Pick read to her this morning. Mother said, that you would be one of the first, whom she would see - when she felt stronger for you had been so kind.

She continues to gain each day and we are hoping, that it won't be too long before she regains her strength.

Most sincerely,

Grace Honeywell
